

Inhalt

*Paris: The Emergence of Nguyen Ai Quoc (1919-23): 1919: the path to the Paris Peace Conference - The radical solution (1920-3)

The Comintern Recruit (1923-4): First contacts in Moscow - The development of Comintern policy for colonial countries - Ho Chi Minh and his place in the Comintern - The Fifth Comintern Congress - The Comintern and the United Front in China - Ho's assignment to Canton

The Canton Period and its Aftermath (1924-8): The first organizational steps - The Guangdong peasant movement - The growth of Thanh Nien - The collapse of the United Front

From the Old to the New Course (1927-9): Ho Chi Minh's travels - The Sixth Comintern Congress - In Siam - The progress of Thanh Nien - The evolution of the Chinese Left - The Thanh Nien rift

The Revolutionary High Tide (1930-1): The return of the Comintern trainees - The unification process - The New Year's uprisings - New assignments - The revolutionary upsurge in China and the Nanyang - The revolutionary wave in Vietnam - The October Plenum and Tran Phu's consolidation of power - The March Plenum and the end of the 'high tide'

Death in Hong Kong, Burial in Moscow? (1931-8): The prisoner - In hiding/new political currents - Return to Moscow - The Seventh Comintern Congress - The United Front in Indochina - Ho Chi Minh's last years in Moscow

The Return of Ho Chi Minh and the Path to the Eighth Plenum (1937-41): The political prelude to Ho Chi Minh's return (1937-8) - Ho Chi Minh's travels / the political landscape in 1939 - The changing international situation - The Sixth Plenum and the 1940 uprisings - The move to the border and the Eighth Plenum