
Supernova Search Charts[©] Handbook

GREGG D. THOMPSON

*Springwood Observatory
Brisbane Queensland Australia*

JAMES T. BRYAN, JR

Nancy Lavender Observatory Georgetown Texas USA

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge

New York Port Chester Melbourne Sydney

MAJOR CONTRIBUTORS

Dr Harold G. Corwin, Jr
Reverend Robert Evans

Thomas Cragg
Steven Lee

Contents

Illustrations	x
Tables	xii
Acknowledgements	xiii
Preface	xvii
1 In quest of supernovae – a visual approach	1
2 The creation of the Supernova Search Charts[©]	10
3 The selection of galaxies	14
Galaxies not included in the charts	17
Binocular and naked-eye charts	17
4 Explaining the charts and their use	23
Chart name	23
Atlas map number	23
Scale	25
Magnitude of galaxies	25
Dimensions of galaxies	26
Coordinates	26
Chart orientation	26
Determining the nucleus of a galaxy	26
Companion galaxies	27
Rendition of galaxies	27
Field limitations	27
Stellar magnitudes	27
Magnitude sequences	27
Previously-discovered supernovae	28
5 The Notes section of the charts	29
Constellation	29
Common name	29
Other designations	29

Contents

Noteworthy characteristics	30
Limiting magnitude	30
Approximate distance modulus	31
Expected maximum brightness	31
Magnitude sequence	32
6 Observing hints	33
Obtaining a visual approximation from the charts	33
Observing at faint magnitude levels	33
Use of averted vision	35
Comfort	35
Frequency of searches	35
Selecting galaxies	36
Efficiency	36
Avoid observational bias	36
Searching under moonlight	36
Extent of the search	38
Orienting the charts	38
Checking routines	38
Light curves and expected visibility of a supernova	39
The rising supernova	40
7 Identifying and reporting a supernova	41
Verification of a suspected supernova	41
Asteroids	42
Variable stars	42
Estimating the magnitude of a supernova	43
Seek confirmation	44
Supernova designations	45
Magnitude discrepancies	45
Bibliography	53
Appendixes	55
I Current theories on supernovae
J. Craig Wheeler	55
II On the importance of early detection for supernova research
Gérard de Vaucouleurs	59
III Distances to galaxies
Harold G. Corwin, Jr	66
IV Observational definition of supernova types
James T. Bryan, Jr and Harold G. Corwin, Jr	74

Illustrations

NGC 5236	M. Spencer	ii
NGC 1398	Anglo Australian Telescope	xvi
NGC 253	Anglo Australian Telescope	2
NGC 253	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	4
NGC 253 (inset)	M. Spencer	4
NGC 3556	R. Royer	6
NGC 2403	R. Royer	6
NGC 3031	J. Child	7
NGC 2976	J. Child	7
NGC 4753	Anglo Australian Telescope	8
NGC 4753	Anglo Australian Telescope	8
Austin Astronomical Society 30 cm Telescope, Springwood Observatory	J. Bryan, Jr	11
Fornax Dwarf Galaxy	G. Thompson	11
Leo I Dwarf Galaxy	European Southern Observatory	15
Sculptor Dwarf Galaxy	Palomar Sky Survey	16
IC 1613	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	18
NGC 6822	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	19
NGC 185	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	20
NGC 147	Palomar Sky Survey	21
NGC 6300	Palomar Sky Survey	22
NGC 6221,6215	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	24
Fornax cluster of galaxies	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	24
NGC 6744	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	34
Figure 1	Anglo Australian Telescope	37
Figure 2		39
Supernova in NGC 1316		42
Supernova in NGC 1532	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	46
Supernova in NGC 5236	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	46
	Anglo Australian Telescope	47

Supernova in NGC 1365	Anglo Australian Telescope	47
Supernova in NGC 1448	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	48
Supernova in NGC 7184	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	48
Supernova in NGC 1559	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	49
Supernova in NGC 3169	Taylor Range Observatory	49
Reverend R. Evans	Daily Examiner Newspaper	50
Supernova in NGC 991	MH Palomar Observatory	51
Supernova in NGC 1433	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	51
Supernova in NGC 3367	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	52
Supernova in NGC 5128	Anglo Australian Telescope	52
J. Craig Wheeler		55
Gérard de Vaucouleurs		59
Large Magellanic Cloud	M. Spencer	60
Small Magellanic Cloud	Mt Tamborine Observatory	62
Supernova 1987A	Gordon Garradd	64
Harold G. Corwin, Jr		66
Virgo cluster of galaxies	UK Schmidt Telescope Unit	67
Figure 3		79
Figure 4		81
Figure 5		81
Figure 6		82
Figure 7		83
Figure 8		83
Figure 9		84
Brian G. Marsden		86
Figure 10		91

Tables

I	Table of charted galaxies	98
Ia	Coding of revised morphological types	122
IIa	Key to Table II	123
II	Photographic references from special sources	124
III	List of common names	125
IV	Period of visibility of galaxies for given geographic latitudes J. Kelly, L. Ball, K. Jackson and G. Thompson	126
IVa	Dates of perpetual twilight for high latitudes	134

Contents

ix

V	Discovery and announcement of supernovae
	Brian G. Marsden	86
VI	The lightbox
	Gregg D. Thompson	90
VII	The overlay sheets
	Gregg D. Thompson	92
	Tables	93