Figures

Because publication costs limited the number of illustrations in this book, I decided to favor depictions of Andean Hybrid Baroque buildings and details of their sculpture over comparative material such as textiles or paintings. Comparative works in other media are readily accessible in books such as the two Barroco peruano volumes edited by Ramón Mujica Pinilla (2002–3); The Colonial Andes: Tapestry and Silverwork, 1530–1830, edited by Elena Phipps et al. (2004); and The Arts in Latin America, 1492–1820, edited by Joseph Rishel (2006). These works are cited in the text.
