Introduction	9
Part One BEGINNINGS	12
Popular Religions	14
Allegiance to a single religion is professed by at least two-thirds of the population in more than 80% of the world's states.
Arrivals	16
The rise of the missionary religions and seaborne trade has greatly influenced the religious map of the world.
Roots and Branches	18
Yesterday's revolution can be today's orthodoxy. Some new movements have grown to become the most popular religion in a state.
Part Two BELIEFS	20
Christianity	22
Christianity is the world's largest religion, with more than 2.1 billion adherents worldwide, and more than 33,000 denominations.
Islam	24
There are 1.34 billion Muslims worldwide, 20% of the world's population. Islam is the state religion of 25 countries.
Hinduism	26
Hinduism is the world's third largest religion, with over 950 million Hindus worldwide. Almost all live in South Asia, with the majority in India, where over 80% of people are Hindu.
Buddhism	28
More than half the world's population live in countries where Buddhism is now, or has been, dominant. During the 20th century, Buddhism was subject to greater suppression than at any time in its history.
Judaism	30
There are over 13 million Jews worldwide, more than 5 million of whom live in Israel.
Sikhism	32
There are 24 million Sikhs worldwide. Over 90% live in India, mainly in the Punjab.
Traditional Beliefs	34
There are more than 250 million adherents of traditional beliefs worldwide. There are also many who belong to a major world religion while continuing to hold traditional local beliefs.
Catholicism	36
There are more than 1 billion Roman Catholics worldwide. 200,000 schools, serving more than 52 million students, operate under Catholic Church auspices.

New Religious Movements	38
The migration of people and ideas fosters new religious movements. Most, but not all, have their origin in a major world religion. Many are very localized, while a few are now international.
New Departures	40
As indigenous religions have spread, they have blended with traditions encountered en route or at their destination. The revival of other traditions has created new identities.
Non-Believers	42
Over 10% of people claim no allegiance to a religion. Many of these are undecided, but some are atheists, who deny the existence of God.

Part Three STRUCTURES 44

State Attitudes to Religion	46
Nearly a quarter of the world's states have formal links with a religion. Some have links with more than one. A few actively discriminate against all.
Christian Finance	48
The world's 2.1 billion Christians donate more than $297 billion a year to support Christian and non-Christian causes.
Religious Education	50
The relationship between State and religion is often revealed by a country's attitude to religious education.
Christian Missionaries	52
The majority of Christian missionary work is among existing Christians. Most missionaries work in their country of origin.
The Word	54
The Bible is the most printed and widely distributed book in the world. In 2005 there were over 1.5 billion bibles in circulation.
Christian Broadcasting	56
Nearly 2 billion people listen to radio or television broadcasts on a Christian theme at least once a month.
Aid and Development	58
Religious organizations make a substantial and growing contribution to aid and development work throughout the world.
Islamic Law	60
Shari'ah sets out for Muslims the basic legal and ethical codes upon which all relationships and institutions are founded and by which they are guided.

Part Four CONFLICTS AND TENSIONS 62

Faultlines	64
Historical feuds and struggles between religions still shape many contemporary events around the world.
Emerging from Persecution	66
Despite a century of more intense persecution than ever before, the major religions have survived and are growing again, where once they were attacked.

Part Five CONTEMPORARY CHALLENGES 68

Shared World 70

Ecumenical Christian and interfaith movements are growing stronger. They are increasingly addressing social, health, environmental and human rights issues.

Equal Rites 72

Within some religious organizations women have equal status with men when it comes to administering religious rites. Other religions are firmly opposed to women fulfilling this role.

Environmental Protection 74

Religious organizations are the largest social network in the world. In recent years they have turned their attention to caring for the environment.

Ethical Investment 76

Worldwide, the major religions are moving their financial assets into socially responsible investments – ranging from Islamic banking to ethical investment portfolios.

The Future 78

Religion will respond in a diversity of ways to both the opportunities and challenges raised by an increasingly free market world.

Part Six THE HEARTLANDS 80

Origins 82

Places associated with the origins of a religion, or where major new expressions came to life, are often centres of pilgrimage and veneration.

Holy Natural 84

For many religions, nature offers a place of encounter with the Divine, helping to conserve some of the most beautiful places in the world.
