

RAVENNA IN LATE ANTIQUITY

Deborah Mauskopf Deliyannis

Indiana University

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	page x
List of Tables	xv
Preface	xvii
Abbreviations	xix
CHAPTER ONE
INTRODUCTION	I
Ravenna Capital?	I
History of Scholarship on Ravenna	5
Some Archaeological Considerations	13
Ravenna and the Historiography of Late Antique Art and Architecture	15
CHAPTER TWO
ROMAN RAVENNA	21
The Origins of Ravenna	21
The Republican City	24
Classe: The Roman Imperial Harbor and Fleet	26
The City of Ravenna in the Roman Empire	31
A Third- and Fourth-Century Crisis?	35
Ravenna's Christian Origins	38
CHAPTER THREE
RAVENNA AND THE WESTERN EMPERORS, AD 400-489	41
The Last Century of the Western Roman Empire	41
Moving the Capital to Ravenna	46
Ravenna as a Capital	48
Ravenna as a sedes imperii	49

The City Walls of Ravenna	52
The Watercourses	54
The Palace(s)	55
Other Public Buildings	58
Churches	60
Churches in the Honorian Period	61
Galla Placidia's Churches	62
San Giovanni Evangelista	63
Santa Croce	70
The "Mausoleum of Galla Placidia"	74
The Rise of the Church of Ravenna	84
The Cathedral	85
The Orthodox Baptistery	88
The Episcopal Palace	100
Other Episcopal Church Foundations	101
The End of Imperial Ravenna	104
CHAPTER FOUR
RAVENNA, THE CAPITAL OF THE OSTROGOTHIC KINGDOM	106
Theoderic and Italy	108
Theoderic's Ravenna	114
Theoderic's Palaces	119
Theoderic's Other Secular Constructions	122
The Mausoleum of Theoderic	124
The Ostrogothic Kingdom after Theoderic to 540	136
CHAPTER FIVE
RELIGION IN OSTROGOTHIC RAVENNA	139
Arianism and the Goths	139
Sant'Apollinare Nuovo	146
Mosaics	152
Santo Spirito (the Arian Cathedral)	174
The Arian Baptistery	177
The Orthodox Church in Ostrogothic Ravenna	187
The Capella Arcivescovile	188
The Early Sixth-Century Churches of Classe	196
The Orthodox Church after Theoderic	198

CHAPTER SIX
RAVENNA'S EARLY BYZANTINE PERIOD, AD 540-600	201
The Environment and Italian Urbanism	203
The Byzantine Reconquest and the Lombards	204
The Establishment of a Byzantine Administration	206
The Archbishops of Ravenna	209
The Cathedral and the Episcopal Throne	213
Church Building	219
Church Building in the City of Ravenna	221
Santa Maria Maggiore	222
San Vitale	223
San Michele in Africisco	250
St. Stephen	255
Other Churches	256
Church Building in Classe	257
St. Probus, St. Eleuchadius, and St. Euphemia ad mare	258
Sant'Apollinare in Classe	259
San Severo	274
 CHAPTER SEVEN
RAVENNA CAPITAL, AD 600-850	277
Ravenna, Capital of the Byzantine Exarchate	278
Archbishops and Popes: The Autocephaly Question	283
After the Exarchate	284
Ravenna's Byzantine and Post-Byzantine Elite	286
The Environment and Urban Life	288
Aftermath: Ravenna, Agnellus, and the Carolingians	295
 Appendix: Tables	301
Notes	309
References	397
Index	435

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Plates

- Ia. "Mausoleum of Galla Placidia," interior view looking toward the south
- Ib. "Mausoleum of Galla Placidia," Christ as the Good Shepherd, north lunette mosaic
- IIa. Orthodox Baptistery, stucco decoration at the window zone
- IIb. Orthodox Baptistery, mosaics of the dome
- IIIa. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the north wall, the Virgin and Child flanked by angels, and the three Magi
- IIIb. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the south wall, detail of St. Martin leading the procession of male saints
- IVa. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the south wall, Ravenna and its "palatium"
- IVb. Arian Baptistery, mosaics of the dome
- V. Capella arcivescovile, view of the chapel's vaults
- VIa. San Vitale, the presbitery and apse
- VIb. San Vitale, mosaic of the south presbitery wall, Melchisedek and Abel
- VIIa. San Vitale, mosaic of the north apse wall, Justinian and his court
- VIIb. San Vitale, mosaic of the south apse wall, Theodora and her court
- VIIIa. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, view of the interior
- VIIIb. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, mosaics of the apse vault

Plates follow page 204.

Figures

- 1. Current street plan of Ravenna, overlaid with the late antique walls and waterways, with major archaeological sites page 12
- 2. Tubi fittili, Museo Nazionale, Ravenna 17

3. Map showing Ravenna in the Roman imperial period, ca. AD 200	22
4. Funerary stele of Publius Longidienus, a ship builder (faber navalis) of Classe, first century BC/AD, Museo Nazionale, Ravenna	29
5. Reconstruction of the Porta Aurea embedded within the late antique walls	33
6. Map showing Ravenna, Classe, and the Adriatic coastline in the fifth, sixth, and ninth centuries	40
7. Map of Ravenna, ca. AD 480	42
8. Gold solidus of Galla Placidia, obverse and reverse, AD 426–30	43
9. Plan of the palace, as known from excavations, ca. AD 450	57
10. San Giovanni Evangelista, plan of the early fifth-century phase	64
11. San Giovanni Evangelista, plan of the modified church, seventh–tenth centuries	65
12. San Giovanni Evangelista, interior view	67
13. San Giovanni Evangelista, reconstruction diagram of the mosaics of the triumphal arch and apse	69
14. The Santa Croce complex, ca. AD 450	71
15. “Mausoleum of Galla Placidia,” exterior view from the southwest	75
16. “Mausoleum of Galla Placidia,” plan at ground level	75
17. “Mausoleum of Galla Placidia,” west arm with a lunette of deer drinking	77
18. “Mausoleum of Galla Placidia,” St. Lawrence, south lunette mosaic	79
19. “Mausoleum of Galla Placidia,” mosaics of the central vault	81
20. Plan of Ravenna’s cathedral complex, including the Ursiana Cathedral (ca. 405), the Orthodox Baptistery (420s–50s), and the Torre Salustra (second century AD)	87
21. Orthodox Baptistery, reconstructed plan at ground level, with current door and font, and plan at window level	90
22. Orthodox Baptistery, view of the exterior from the southeast	91
23. Orthodox Baptistery, reconstructed cross section showing the original and subsequent floor and roof levels	92
24. Orthodox Baptistery, view of the interior facing southeast	93
25. Orthodox Baptistery, throne in fantastic architectural scene, mosaics of the middle zone	97
26. Orthodox Baptistery, central medallion of the dome, depicting the baptism of Christ	99
27. Sant’Agata Maggiore, reconstructed plan	103
28. Map of Ravenna, ca. AD 530	107
29. Gold triple solidus of Theoderic (the Senigallia Medallion), gold, 3.3 cm diam., Museo Nazionale, Rome	108
30. Bronze decanummium, obverse with bust of Ravenna and the legend “Felix Ravenna,” reverse with a monogram of Ravenna surrounded by a wreath	115
31. Plan of the palace, as known from excavations, ca. 526	121

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 32. Marble panel depicting Hercules and the Stag of Cerineia, early sixth century, Museo Nazionale, Ravenna | 123 |
| 33. Mausoleum of Theoderic, view from the west | 125 |
| 34. Mausoleum of Theoderic, view of the interior of the lower level | 126 |
| 35. Mausoleum of Theoderic, entrance, lower level | 127 |
| 36. Mausoleum of Theoderic, plan at ground level showing the structure and the original location of the fence posts | 128 |
| 37. Mausoleum of Theoderic, plan of the upper level | 128 |
| 38. Mausoleum of Theoderic, monolithic capstone | 130 |
| 39. Reconstruction of the Mausoleum of Theoderic (by Heidenreich/Johannes) | 131 |
| 40. Reconstruction of the Mausoleum of Theoderic (by De Angelis d'Ossat) | 131 |
| 41. Mausoleum of Theoderic, porphyry bathtub now in the upper room | 132 |
| 42. Mausoleum of Theoderic, "Zangenfries" relief ornament at the base of the capstone | 133 |
| 43. Mausoleum of Theoderic, spur on the capstone with the inscription "S(an)c(tu)s Petrus" | 134 |
| 44. Arian Baptistery, head of an apostle | 141 |
| 45. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the south wall, Christ flanked by angels | 147 |
| 46. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, reconstructed plan (black) with still-existing baroque apse and chapels in gray (north wall reconstructed to match the surviving south wall) | 149 |
| 47. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, view of the north nave wall | 149 |
| 48. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, south colonnade with the ambo | 151 |
| 49. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, column capital | 151 |
| 50. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the north wall, the city and port of Classe | 153 |
| 51. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the north wall, upper zone, Christ calling Sts. Peter and Andrew | 155 |
| 52. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the south wall, upper zone, Christ and the apostles at the Last Supper | 155 |
| 53. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the north wall, window zone (far left side), two male figures holding a scroll and a codex | 159 |
| 54. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the south wall, detail of the left side of the "palatium" | 165 |
| 55. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, diagram of the images of Classe and the Ravenna "palatium" with the areas replaced in the 560s shaded | 165 |
| 56. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic of the north wall, Sts. Caecilia, Eulalia, Agnes (with the lamb), Agatha, and Pelagia | 169 |
| 57. Sant'Apollinare Nuovo, mosaic fragment from the west wall, head of Justinian | 173 |
| 58. Santo Spirito, view of the interior | 175 |

59. The Arian Cathedral (today Santo Spirito) and Baptistery, reconstructed plan showing octagon and now-lost surrounding spaces (shaded)	177
60. Arian Baptistery, exterior view	179
61. Arian Baptistery, central medallion depicting the baptism of Christ	182
62. Arian Baptistery, Sts. Peter and Paul flanking a throne	183
63. Plan of Ravenna's episcopal complex, including the cathedral, baptistery, and various buildings of the episcopium	189
64. Capella arcivescovile , southeast exterior wall with the remains of the eighth-century vivarium (?)	190
65. Capella arcivescovile , plan of the narthex and chapel	191
66. Capella arcivescovile , view of the narthex facing northwest, Christ trampling the beasts	193
67. Capella arcivescovile , northeast arch of chapel, Christ and the apostles	195
68. Capella arcivescovile , northwest arch of chapel, female saints	195
69. Ground plan of the basilica and octagonal structure found at the site of Ca'Bianca, with excavated areas in black and gray	199
70. Map of Ravenna, ca. AD 600	202
71. Ambo of Agnellus, now in the cathedral	214
72. Throne of Maximian, front view, ivory on a wooden frame, 540s–50s	215
73. Throne of Maximian, panel depicting the Annunciation	217
74. Throne of Maximian, detail from side, Jacob mourning Joseph	217
75. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, columns of Proconnesian marble, seen from the north aisle	221
76. Santa Maria Maggiore, plan of the apse	223
77. San Vitale, view of the exterior from the north	225
78. San Vitale, reconstructed original ground plan	227
79. San Vitale, section drawings, two views – looking east and looking north	228
80. San Vitale, central octagon facing south	229
81. San Vitale, column capital from the ground level of the octagonal core	233
82. San Vitale, reconstruction of the original marble revetment on the outer walls of the ambulatory	235
83. San Vitale, mosaics of the vault of the apse	239
84. San Vitale, mosaic of the north apse wall, detail, head of Maximian	241
85. San Vitale, south side of the presbitery arch	245
86. San Vitale, mosaic of the north presbitery wall, including the story of Abraham	245
87. San Vitale, arch and vault of the presbitery	249
88. San Michele in Africisco , plan of original layout	251
89. San Michele in Africisco , reconstructed mosaic of the apse and triumphal arch, now in the Skulpturensammlung und Museum für Byzantinische Kunst, Staatliche Museen zu Berlin, Berlin, Germany	253

90. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, plan, including the later campanile on the north side	262
91. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, view of the exterior from the southeast	263
92. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, column capital of the composite windblown acanthus type	264
93. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, view of the apse and triumphal arch	265
94. Sinopie (underdrawing) from the lower apse wall of Sant'Apollinare in Classe, today in the Museo Nazionale, Ravenna	265
95. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, the Transfiguration mosaic in the apse vault: medallion flanked by Moses, Isaiah, the Hand of God (above), and three sheep representing apostles	267
96. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, St. Apollinaris and (left to right) Bishops Ecclesius, St. Severus, St. Ursus, and Ursicinus	271
97. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, mosaic on the north wall of the apse depicting emperors with Archbishop Reparatus	272
98. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, mosaic on the south wall of the apse depicting Abel, Melchisedek, and Abraham and Isaac	273
99. San Severo, Classe, ground plan of the late sixth-century basilica (including its solea) and the earlier chapels to the south, as revealed from excavations	275
100. Map of Ravenna, ca. AD 840 (at the time of Agnellus)	276
101. San Vitale, sarcophagus of the exarch Isaac (d. 643), early fifth-century sarcophagus with seventh-century inscription	281
102. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, sarcophagus of Archbishop Gratosius (d. ca. AD 789)	291
103. So-called "Palace of the Exarchs," actually the facade of a church dedicated to the Savior, mid-eighth century	292
104. Sant'Apollinare in Classe, ciborium of St. Eleuchadius, ninth century AD	295

LIST OF TABLES

1. Roman emperors	page 301
2. Kings of Italy	302
3. Exarchs (with attested titles)	302
4. Lombard kings	303
5. Bishops of Ravenna	304
6. Popes	305
7. Dimensions of Ravenna's basilicas	308