

THEORIES OF COUNSELING
and
PSYCHOTHERAPY
A Multicultural Perspective

7
edition

ALLEN E. IVEY
University of Massachusetts

MICHAEL J. D'ANDREA
Seton Hall University, St. Mary's University

MARY BRADFORD IVEY
University of South Florida at Tampa

Los Angeles | London | New Delhi
Singapore | Washington DC

Detailed Contents

Preface xxiii

Acknowledgments xxvii

PART I. AN INTEGRAL APPROACH TO COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY THEORIES AND PRACTICES 1

1. PAST INFLUENCES, PRESENT TRENDS, AND FUTURE CHALLENGES IN COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY 5

Chapter Goals 5

Vignette #1 6

Introduction 6

An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy 8

Building on Wilber's Integral Theory of Human Development 10

The Individual Perceptions and Meaning Making Quadrant 10

Understanding Our Clients' Worldviews 11

Eclectic Approaches to Counseling and Psychotherapy 12

The Behavioral/Physical/Neurological Quadrant 13

Linking Neuroscience to Counseling and Psychotherapy 14

An Overview of the Basics of Neuroscience 15

What Are Neurons? 15

What Are Neurotransmitters? 16

Neuroplasticity 17

Mirror Neurons 17

Mirror Neurons and Empathy 19

The Societal/Professional Quadrant 21

New Societal/Professional Challenges 22

Managed Care 23

The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM) 23

Evidence-Supported Therapies and Practices 24

The Scientist-Practitioner 26

Advances in Technology 28

Professional Ethics 28

The Cultural Community Quadrant	31
Additional Cultural Community Quadrant Considerations	33
Addressing Clients' Cultural Communities in Counseling and Therapy	34
The Interfacing of the Integral Quadrants	38
Linking Theory to Practice	39
The Psychodynamic Orientation	39
The Cognitive-Behavioral Orientation	40
The Existential-Humanistic Orientation	41
The Multicultural Counseling Orientation	41
The Positive Psychology/Wellness Counseling Orientation	42
Summary	43
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	47

2. NEUROSCIENCE: THE NEWEST FORCE IN COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY 49

Chapter Goals	49
Vignette #2	50
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	50
Introduction	50
Neuroscience: The Missing Link in Counseling and Therapy Theories and Practices	53
Acknowledging the Resistance to Neuroscience	55
Dualistic Thinking About the Mind and the Brain	55
What Are Neurotransmitters?	61
We Are What We Eat	61
Helping Strategies That Promote Healthy Neurotransmitters	63
Counseling/Therapy Skills and Intervention Strategies That May Impact the Generation and Release of Acetylcholine	63
Counseling/Therapy Skills and Intervention Strategies That May Impact the Generation and Release of Serotonin	65
Counseling/Therapy Skills and Intervention Strategies That May Impact the Generation and Release of Dopamine	66
Counseling/Therapy Skills and Intervention Strategies That May Impact the Generation and Release of GABA	66
Understanding the Complexity of Linking People's Thoughts, Feelings, and Behaviors to Various Parts of the Brain	67
Cerebral Cortex	68
Prefrontal Cortex	68
Cingulate System	69
Basal Ganglia	69

Temporal Lobes	70
Limbic System	70
Using Counseling and Psychotherapy Theories to Promote Positive Brain Changes	73
Neuroscience Research Findings and Psychodynamic Therapy Theories	74
Neuroscience Research Findings and Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy Theories	76
Cultural Neuroscience	78
Trauma and Other Threats to One's Well-Being:
Multicultural and Neurological Considerations	82
Summary	85
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	85
3. THE MULTIDIMENSIONAL NATURE OF
MULTICULTURAL COUNSELING AND THERAPY	87
Chapter Goals	87
Vignette #3	88
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	88
Introduction	89
The Multicultural and Feminist Counseling Movements	91
RESPECTFUL Counseling and Therapy	93
Religious/Spiritual Identity	94
Economic Class Background	95
Sexual Identity	96
Psychological Maturity	97
Ethnic/Racial Identity	99
Chronological Challenges	99
Trauma and Other Threats to One's Well-Being	100
Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing Therapy (EMDR)	102
Family Background and History	102
Unique Physical Characteristics	103
Location of Residence and Language Differences	105
Professional Ethics and Multicultural Competence	107
Understanding the Interplay of Multiple Group Identities	116
The Community Counseling Theory (CCT): A Multifaceted Approach to Counseling and Development	117
Basic Assumptions	117
Environment: Positive and Negative Effects	118
Individual and Collective Empowerment	118
A Multifaceted Approach Is Preferable	119
Attending to Clients' Multidimensionality	119
Summary	120
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	121

4. USING NARRATIVE AND MICROSKILLS IN COUNSELING AND THERAPY: FOUNDATIONS OF THE INTENTIONAL INTERVIEW 127

Chapter Goals	127
Vignette #4	128
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	128
Introduction	129
The Five-Stage Interview: A Viable Model for All Theories	130
Theories of Counseling and Therapy as Stories and Narratives	132
Stage 1. Relationship: Empathy, Structuring, and Establishing Preliminary Goals	133
Stage 2. Story and Strengths: Gathering Data and Exploring Resources	135
Stage 3. Goals: Establishing Outcomes	137
Stage 4. Restory: Generating Alternative Solutions	138
Stage 5. Action: Generalizing and Transferring Learning	140
Microskills: An Integrative Foundation for Counseling and Therapy	141
Attending Behavior: A Skill Set Critical to All Theories and All Clients	144
Attending Skills and Cultural Differences	147
Listening Skills: The Basic Listening Sequence	148
Influencing Skills and Strategies	152
Focusing: Internal and External Attribution	155
Different Skill Patterns for Different Theories	156
Limitations and Practical Implications of the Microskills Framework	158
Narrative Therapy: Storytelling in the Process of Counseling and Psychotherapy	159
The Person Is Not the Problem: The Problem Is the Problem	161
Cultural/Environmental/Contextual Issues and Narrative Therapy	162
Investigative Reporting and Questions	164
Narrative Therapy, Microskills, and Other Theoretical Models	165
Summary	168
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	170

PART II. THE FIRST, SECOND, AND THIRD FORCES IN COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY 173

5. THE PSYCHODYNAMIC TRADITION: THEORETICAL CONSTRUCTS AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS 175

Chapter Goals	175
Vignette #5	176
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	176
Introduction	176
Sigmund Freud and Psychoanalytic Counseling and Therapy: An Overview	177

Freud's Psychoanalytic Worldview	179
The Unconscious and a Person's Developmental History	179
Freud's Stages of Development: Roots of Behavior, Emotion, and Thought	182
The Oral Stage and the Issue of Trust	182
The Anal Stage and the Issue of Control	183
The Phallic Stage and Sex Role Development	184
The Latency Stage and Shifting Interests	184
The Genital Stage and Dealing With Ongoing Challenges	184
Other Key Freudian/Psychoanalytic Concepts	185
The Individual, Family, and Collective Cultural Unconscious	186
The Id, Ego, and Superego	188
Anxiety and Ego Defense Mechanisms	189
Attachment Theory	192
Early Research	193
New Defense Mechanisms Associated With Attachment Theory	194
Acting-Out Behavior	194
Avoidant Behavior	195
Adult Resistant and Avoidant Defense Mechanisms	196
Recent Neuroscience Research on Attachment Theory	198
Psychodynamic Counseling and Therapy Strategies: Applications for Practice	201
Free Association	201
Interpretation	205
Dream Analysis and Current Real Issues	207
Analysis of Resistance	210
Analysis of Transference and Countertransference	210
Practical Implications and Limitations of Psychodynamic Methods	211
Summary	213
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	213

6. ADLERIAN AND JUNGIAN COUNSELING AND THERAPY 217

Chapter Goals	217
Vignette #6	217
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	218
Introduction	218
Alfred Adler and Individual Psychology	219
Adler's Theory of Individual Psychology	220
The Adlerian Worldview	221
The Teleological Nature of Humankind	222
Social Interest, Personal Competence, Superiority, and Belongingness	222
An Early Supporter of Women's Rights and Social Justice	223
Life Tasks	224

Spirituality	225
A Prevention Focus	225
Other Key Adlerian Concepts	228
Fictional Goals	228
Private Logic	228
Family Factors	229
Adlerian Counseling and Therapy Strategies: Applications for Practice	231
Stage 1. Building a Trusting Relationship	231
Stage 2. The Assessment Stage	232
Stage 3. Promoting Insight	232
Stage 4. Reorientation	233
Practical Implications and Limitations of Adler's Theory	233
Carl Jung and Analytical Psychology	234
The Jungian Worldview	235
The Personal Unconscious	237
Psychological Complexes	237
The Collective Unconscious	238
The Shadow Within	239
Expanding Jungian Concepts Through Multicultural Psychodynamic Theory	239
The Family Unconscious	239
The Family and the Collective Cultural Unconscious	240
Therapeutic Implications	240
Using Different Therapeutic Psychodynamic Approaches With Teresa	242
The Transcendental Function and Individuation	244
Psychological Types	245
Jungian Counseling and Therapy Strategies: Applications for Practice	246
Stage 1. Catharsis and Emotional Cleansing	246
Stage 2. Elucidation	247
Stage 3. Education	247
Stage 4. Transformation	248
Practical Implications and Limitations of Jung's Theory	251
New Directions in Psychodynamic Counseling and Therapy:
Interpersonal Therapy	252
Summary	255
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	255
7. COGNITIVE-BEHAVIORAL COUNSELING AND THERAPY	259
Chapter Goals	259
Vignette #7	260
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	260
Introduction	261

The Evolution of Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy: An Overview of Behaviorism	262
Classical Conditioning Theory: Pavlov and Watson	262
Operant Conditioning Theory: B. F. Skinner	265
Positive Reinforcement	265
Negative Reinforcement	266
Punishment	266
Extinction	266
Social Learning Theory: Albert Bandura	267
Modeling	268
Self-Regulation	270
Behavioral Counseling and Therapy Strategies: Applications for Practice	271
Applied Behavioral Analysis	271
Operationalization of Behavior	272
Functional Analysis: The A-B-C's of Behavior	274
Establishing Behavior Change Goals	276
Pinpointing Behavior	282
Positive and Intermittent Reinforcement	282
Charting	283
Relaxation Training	285
Biofeedback and Self-Regulation	288
Reciprocal Inhibition and Systematic Desensitization	289
Modeling and Social Skills Training	293
The Cognitive Revolution	294
Meichenbaum's Theory of Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy	294
Aaron Beck, Cognitive Therapy, and Automatic Thoughts	296
Relationship as Central to Change in CBT	297
Changing Faulty Thought Patterns	298
Neuroscientific Support for Beck's Theory	298
Faulty Reasoning and Depressed Clients	299
The Daily Record of Automatic Thoughts	300
Adding Gender/Family/Multicultural Dimensions to CBT	301
Multicultural and Feminist Approaches to CBT	302
CBT Strategies: Applications for Practice	304
Stress Management	304
Stress Management Training	305
Stress Management Training and Trauma	307
Life Skills Training	308
Assertiveness Training	309
Multicultural Considerations in Assertiveness Training	311
Relapse Prevention	312
Helping Clients Cope With the Environment	313

New Directions in CBT: Mindfulness Counseling and Therapy	315
MBCT as an Evidence-Supported Therapy	316
The Innovative Use of Technology With MBCT	316
Practical Implications and Limitations of CBT	317
Summary	317
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	318
8. RATIONAL-EMOTIVE BEHAVIOR THERAPY AND REALITY THERAPY	321
Chapter Goals	321
Vignette #8	322
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	322
Introduction	323
Cognition and the Cognitive-Behavioral Force	323
Albert Ellis and Rational-Emotive Behavior Therapy	325
Ellis's Early Training	326
Ellis's New Approach	327
Central Theoretical Constructs and Techniques of REBT	327
Emotion and REBT	328
Examining Philosophy and Belief Systems	328
Identifying Irrational Statements	330
Integration of Theory and Action	331
The A-B-C's of Cognition	336
The D-E-F's of Promoting and Maintaining Change	337
REBT and Multicultural Factors	338
Moving From REBT to REBCT: A Significant Advancement	339
Linking Neuroscience With REBCT	342
Limitations and Practical Implications of Ellis's Theory	344
William Glasser and Reality Therapy	344
Central Theoretical Constructs of Reality Therapy	345
The Importance of Responsibility	347
Learning Responsibility Is a Lifelong Process	347
Cognitive Trends in Reality Therapy	348
Glasser's Theory in Action	349
Glasser's Criticisms of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders	352
Reality Therapy and Multicultural Counseling	354
Innovative Technological Developments:
New Directions for CBT and Reality Therapy	356
Limitations and Practical Implications of Glasser's Theory	357
Summary	358
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	360

9. THE EXISTENTIAL-HUMANISTIC TRADITION 363

- Chapter Goals 363
- Vignette #9 364
- An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy 364
- Introduction 365
- The Existential-Humanistic Worldview 366
  - Being in the World 366
- Existential Commitment, Intentionality, and the I-Thou Relationship 367
  - Existential Commitment 367
  - Intentionality 368
  - I-Thou Relationships 368
- The Rogerian Revolution: Carl Rogers's Theoretical Worldview 369
- Expanding Self-Actualization Theory 370
  - Fusion and Boundaries in Relationships 372
  - Moving From Self-Actualization to Co-Actualization 373
- The Influence of Rogers 375
  - Stage 1. The Nondirective Period (1940–1950) 378
  - Stage 2. The Client-Centered Period (1950–1961) 383
  - Stage 3. The Person-Centered Period (1961–1987) 388
- Spirituality, Multiculturalism, and Existential-Humanistic Counseling 391
- New Directions in Client-Centered Counseling and Therapy: Motivational Interviewing 397
  - Communicating Empathy 397
  - Dealing With Clients' Ambivalence and Discrepancies 398
  - Supporting Clients' Self-Efficacy Through Evocation 399
  - Respect for Clients' Autonomy: Rolling With Resistance 402
  - Motivational Interviewing Skills 402
- Limitations and Practical Implications of the Existential-Humanistic Tradition 403
- Summary 404
  - Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook 406

10. LOGOTHERAPY AND GESTALT COUNSELING 409

- Chapter Goals 409
- Vignette #10 409
- An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy 410
- Introduction 411
- Viktor Frankl and Logotherapy 411
  - Frankl's Early Years 411
  - Personal Tragedy 412
  - Frankl's Search for Meaning 413

Central Theoretical Constructs of Logotherapy	415
Cognitive Change and Finding Positive Meanings	416
Logotherapy Strategies: Applications for Practice	417
Modification of Attitudes	417
Reframing Attitudes	418
Deciding for the Future	420
Paradoxical Intention	421
Dereflection	422
The Appealing Technique	424
Logotherapy, Spirituality, and Medicine	426
Spirituality and Psychotherapy as Reconciliation	427
Multicultural Implications of Logotherapy: Promoting Psychological Liberation	428
Fritz Perls and Gestalt Therapy	430
Central Theoretical Constructs and Techniques	431
The Gestalt Worldview	432
Gestalt Techniques	435
Here-and-Now Experiencing	435
Directives	436
Language Changes	436
The Empty Chair Technique	436
Talking to Parts of Oneself	441
Top Dog and Underdog	441
Staying With One's Feelings	441
Dream Work	441
Individualism and Other Cultural/Contextual Considerations	442
Critiquing Perls's Work From Multicultural and Feminist Perspectives	444
Limitations and Practical Implications of the Existential-Humanistic Tradition	445
Summary	445
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	446

PART III. EXPLORING NEW FORCES IN THE EVOLUTION OF COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY 449

11. FEMINIST COUNSELING AND THERAPY 451

Judy Daniels, University of Hawai'i, Manoa

Chapter Goals 451

Vignette #11 452

An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy 453

Introduction 453

The Feminist Counseling and Therapy Movement: An Overview 454

Developing a New Psychology of Women	455
Jean Baker Miller	455
Miriam Greenspan	457
The FCT Worldview	461
Self in Relation: The Importance of Relational Considerations	463
Factors That Disrupt Relational Connections and Undermine Psychological Health	463
The Importance of Self-Reflection for Liberatory Professional Practices	465
Avoiding Victimology	466
Dealing With Sexism in Counseling and Therapy	466
Feminist Identity Development Theory	470
Stages of Feminist Identity Development Theory	471
Working Intentionally With Women in Counseling and Therapy	474
Intentionally Focusing on Women's Strengths	475
Working With Persons at Stage 1: Passive Acceptance	475
Working With Persons at Stage 2: Revelation	477
Working With Persons at Stage 3: Embeddedness-Emanation	478
Working With Persons at Stage 4: Synthesis	480
Working With Persons at Stage 5: Active Commitment	481
Feminist and Multicultural Counseling and Therapy	484
Relational-Cultural Theory	486
Key RCT Concepts	487
Implementing RCT in Practice	489
Summary	490
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	492

12. MULTICULTURAL COUNSELING AND THERAPY 495

Chapter Goals	495
Vignette #12	496
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	497
Introduction	497
Multicultural Counseling and Therapy as Metatheory	500
Proposition I	500
Building a More Expansive View of Counseling and Therapy	502
The Afrocentric Worldview	502
The Afrocentric Worldview Related to Other Cultures	503
Being Mindful of Multiple Identities, Contexts, and Experiences	504
Proposition II	504
Introspective Developmental Counseling	505
Tamase's Basic Life Stages	509
Making Meaning From the Past	511
Consciousness-Raising Groups	512

Cultural/Racial Identity Development Theory	514
Proposition III	514
Implications of Practitioners' White Cultural/Racial Identity Development	518
Stage 1. Preexposure	518
Stage 2. Exposure	519
Stage 3. Zealotry or Defensiveness	519
Stage 4. Integration	519
Co-Constructing Culturally Appropriate Techniques and Strategies in MCT	520
Proposition IV	520
Applying MCT With Culturally Different Clients	521
General Guidelines for Working With Persons in Specific Groups	522
MCT Practice and Multiple Helping Roles	523
Proposition V	524
Network Therapy	524
Where to Start With Network Therapy	525
Traditional Healing	526
The Liberation of Consciousness	528
Proposition VI	528
Paulo Freire's Theory of Psychological Liberation	528
Freire's Five Levels of Consciousness	529
Freire's Psychoeducational Method	530
Linking Freire's Educational Method to Counseling and Therapy	530
Inviting a Narrative	531
Reexperiencing Experiences in Sensory Terms	531
Making the Narrative Concrete and Specific	532
Moving to a Reflective and Liberated Consciousness	533
Seeing Self in System	534
Quiñones-Rosado's Consciousness-in-Action Theory	535
Using the Consciousness-in-Action Model in Individual Counseling	538
Limitations and Practical Implications of MCT	543
Summary	544
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	544

13. POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY/WELLNESS COUNSELING AND BRIEF/SOLUTION-FOCUSED THERAPY 547

Chapter Goals	547
Vignette #13	548
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	548
Introduction	549
The Wellness Counseling Model	550
The Essential Self	551

Spirituality	552
Gender Identity	555
Cultural Identity	555
Self-Care	556
The Coping Self	556
Realistic Beliefs	556
Stress Management	557
Self-Worth	559
Leisure	559
The Social Self	559
Friendship	560
Love	560
The Creative Self	560
Thinking	561
Emotions	561
Positive Humor	561
Control	562
Work	562
The Physical Self	562
Nutrition	563
Exercise	563
Implementing a Personal/Contextual Approach to Wellness Counseling	563
Brief/Solution-Focused Therapy and Wellness Counseling	567
Limitations and Practical Implications of Brief/Solution-Focused Therapy and Positive Psychology/Wellness Counseling	575
Summary	576
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	576

14. DEVELOPMENTAL COUNSELING AND THERAPY: INTEGRATIVE THEORY AND PRACTICE 579

Chapter Goals	579
Vignette #14	580
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	580
Introduction	580
The Integrative Worldview of Developmental Counseling and Therapy	584
Comparing Ivey's DCT Model and Lane's Levels of Awareness Theory	585
The Importance of Piaget's Influence	586
The Importance of DCT's Dialectic/Systemic Style	588
Piagetian Cognitive Stages Related to Client Assessment	589
DCT Styles and Cultural Identity Development Theory	600
Lane's Research on Emotions	602

DCT's Approach to Treatment Planning	605
Integrating Treatment to Address Clients'
Multiple Cognitive/Emotional Styles	605
DCT and the Treatment of Depression	608
The Unique Narrative Strategies of DCT	611
Toward the Future: DCT, Neuroscience, Wellness,
Health Psychology, Multiculturalism, and Prevention	615
Limitations and Practical Implications of the DCT Integrative Approach	619
Summary	620
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	620

15. BASIC FOUNDATIONS OF FAMILY COUNSELING AND THERAPY: THEORETICAL FOUNDATIONS AND TRANSLATIONS TO PRACTICE 623
Sandra Rigazio-DiGilio, University of Connecticut, Storrs

Chapter Goals	623
Vignette #15	624
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	625
Introduction	625
Family Counseling and Therapy: An Overview	626
Origins of a Family Perspective in Counseling and Therapy	630
The Systemic Worldview	631
Cultural Impact and Extensions of Family Systems	633
Central Constructs of Family Counseling and Therapy	635
The Family Developmental Life Cycle	635
Effective Family Functioning	638
Multicultural Issues in Family Counseling and Therapy	639
Attitudes Toward Mental Health and Treatment	640
Network Therapy	641
Major Family Counseling and Therapy Theories	641
Classifying Systemic Therapies	644
Bowen Family Therapy: An Illustrative First-Force Perspective	647
Central Theoretical Constructs	647
Central Treatment Goals	648
Primary Therapeutic Techniques	648
Other Therapeutic Techniques	651
Structural Family Therapy: An Illustrative Second-Force Perspective	651
Central Theoretical Constructs	651
Central Treatment Goals	653
Primary Therapeutic Interventions	654
Symbolic/Experiential Family Therapy: Illustrative Third-Force Perspective	654
Central Theoretical Constructs and Goals	655

Primary Therapeutic Techniques	655
Systemic Cognitive-Developmental Therapy: Illustrative Fourth-Force Perspective	657
Central Theoretical Constructs	657
Central Treatment Goals	662
Primary Therapeutic Techniques	663
Limitations of Family Counseling and Therapy	668
Summary	669
Learning From the DVD That Accompanies This Textbook	670

16. IDENTIFYING YOUR OWN INTEGRATED APPROACH TO COUNSELING AND THERAPY 671

Chapter Goals	671
Vignette #16	671
An Integral Approach to Counseling and Psychotherapy	672
Introduction	673
The Search for the “Best” Theory	673
The Foundational Chapters: Basic to All Theories	675
Searching for Theoretical Integration	677
Multicultural Counseling and Therapy as the Theoretical Fourth Force	677
A Summary of the Major Theoretical Forces of Counseling and Psychotherapy	680
Embracing Research as Scientific Practitioners	680
Constructing Your Own View or Theory of Counseling and Therapy	684

References 689

Author Index 717

Subject Index 729

About the Authors 743