

Jason Zuidema

Peter Martyr Vermigli
(1499–1562)
and the Outward Instruments
of Divine Grace

Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
Preface	9
1. Peter Martyr Vermigli (1499—1562): A Man in the Middle	13
1.1 Introduction	13
1.2 The Vermigli Research Renaissance	17
1.3 Conclusion	35
2. Historical Introduction: Over-Carnalized and Over-Spiritualized Religion	37
2.1 Introduction	37
2.2 Over-Carnalized Religion	38
2.3 Over-Spiritualized Religion	44
2.4 Vermigli's Early Life, Education, and Career	47
2.5 Conclusion	54
3. 'Sailing in the Midst of Extremes': The Incarnate Word of God	55
3.1 Introduction	55
3.2 The Sources of Vermigli's Christology	57
3.3 Historical Survey of Vermigli's Christology	59
3.4 Conclusion: Vermigli and the 'Heretics'	88
4. Holy Scripture: The Audible Words of God	93
4.1 Introduction	93
4.2 Scripture and God's Will	96
4.3 Scripture as Instrument	109
4.4 Description of Scripture	117
4.5 Of Bees and Spiders: Tradition and the Authority of Scripture	121
4.6 Interpreting Scripture	125
4.7 Preaching and the Pastoral Ministry	133
4.8 Conclusion	136

5. The Bending of the Knee and the Visible Words of God	137
5.1 Introduction	137
5.2 Instrumentality and the Outward Element	140
5.3 Conclusion	156
6. The 'Mean' Mystery: Vermigli and Union with Christ	159
6.1 Introduction	159
6.2 Vermigli on the Mystical Union	159
6.3 Good Works and the Middle Way	165
Conclusion	167
Vermigli Studies Bibliography	169
General Bibliography	186
Abbreviations	192
Index	193