

NOTES ON WOMEN'S LIBERATION

WE SPEAK IN MANY VOICES

price: $1:00

ISSUED BY NEWS & LETTERS

1900 E. Jefferson DETROIT

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PART I – THE NEW VOICES

An Analysis from the Inside – Mary Ann Murphy, Women's Liberation, Det.	5
"Where Have You Been All Your Life?" – Rachel Woods, black hospital worker	8
The High School Mill – Bernice M., high school senior	11
Women: Black and White, Young and Old – Ethel Dunbar, black worker	12
The New and the Newer – Molly Jackson, white working student	13
History and the Need for Women Theorists – Barbara B., W.L., Detroit	17
"Barefoot and Pregnant" – Ester Serrano, young Mexican-American	22
ARA and Union Harass Women Fighting Discrimination – ARA worker	26
One View of the Movement – Judy M., white student, N.Y.	27
A Response from a Participant – Terry Moon, W.L., Detroit	30
The Theoretic Challenge of Women's Liberation – Bonnie McFadden, white student	32

PART II – WOMEN'S LIBERATION SPEAKS IN MANY VOICES

"Freedom is Something That All of Us Need" – Mabel Hobson, WRO, Det.	41
What It's Like in a Shop – Pam N., young white worker	43
Women in Teaching – A.H.S., teacher	45
Until Our Minds Are Free – Nasara Arabi, California	47
A Woman in a "Man's" Job – Mary O., cab driver	48
Clothes and Women's Liberation – Nancy Homer, W.L., Detroit	49
The Factory Pits Women Against Each Other – Joanna M. Jackson, black cannery worker	51

A Wall Street Journal – Susan van Gelder, temporary office worker	53
Fighting the Company and the Union – Betty Thomas Mayen, union activist	55
The Bias Against Women Renters – Estelle E., office worker	57
Black Working Women Will Rebel – L.D., black student	58
"We Shall Not Be Sold" – Anne Chapdelaine, white working student	59
How Long Must We Wait? – Mary Curry, black hospital aide	60
The Fruehauf Clerical Workers' Strike – Woman Striker	61

PART III – THE HISTORIC PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

... AND THE NEED FOR PHILOSOPHY

Women and the Old Radicals – Raya Dunayevskaya (excerpts from unpublished 1951 essay)	64
Women's Liberation in China – Jade, refugee from mainland China	67
Pages from a Shop Diary – Olga Domanski, Graduate, Fisher Body Assembly Line	71
The Women's Liberation Movement as Reason and as Revolutionary Force – Raya Dunayevskaya, Chairman, News & Letters Committees	76
Excerpts from "Private Property and Communism" – Karl Marx	86