

Thirty-three architects, artists, philosophers, and architectural historians share – together with the photographer Gabriele Basilico – their experience of the architecture of the national pavilions with visitors to the Venice Biennale.