

A NATURALIST'S ADVENTURE IN NEPAL

SEARCH FOR THE SPINY BABBLER

S. DILLON RIPLEY

RATNA PUSTAK BHANDAR
KATHMANDU NEPAL 1978

Contents

Preface to the 1978 edition	v
Acknowledgments	ix
I. Introduction to Nepal	1
II. Return to Nepal, 1948	18
III. The Road to Kathmandu	37
IV. The Valley	55
V. A Panoply of Plumes	75
VI. Toward the Karnali	95
VII. Birds Along the Trail	114
VIII. Rekcha and the Spiny Babbler	133
IX. More About Hill Birds	153
X. The Road Back	171
XI. East Nepal: First Impressions	190
XII. A Little Hunting	209
XIII. Dhankuta	228
XIV. Mangalbare	248
XV. Farewell to Nepal	267
Bibliography	291
Index	293
Index of Birds	299
Map	end of volume

List of Illustrations

The Spiny Babbler (colour)	facing page vi
1. Tibetan Lama from Shimbuling Gompa near Mount Kailas	38
2. The old lady of Rekcha	38
3. Don Pal, the mighty hunter	39
4. Tharu children inside a hut at Tikapur	54
5. Tibetans at Boddhnath	54
6. The Goddess Tara in brass at Swayambhunath	55
7. The central stupa at Swayambhunath	86
8. The temple of the five stages at Bhadgaon	87
9. Author showing hill men at Rekcha a drawing of the Mountain Quail	102
10. A panorama of Kathmandu from Bhim Sen's Tower	103
11. Forging the Karnali River	166
12. Our camps on the shrine site in Rekcha	167
13. An old limousine being transported over the hills	182
14. On the steps of the Singha Durbar Hall	183
15. A formal audience with the Maharajah	230
16. The view from Rekcha	231
17. The Everest massif at an angle unknown to mountaineers	246
18. A bride in east Nepal	247