

Zurich University of the Arts —
Toni Campus

Editors
Janine Schiller and Katharina Nill

Scheidegger & Spiess

- 6 The University in its New Home
- The interplay between building and shell, organisational culture, architecture and city
Janine Schiller and Katharina Nill
- 12 Beforehand is not Afterwards
- The relocation to the Toni Campus and its strategic significance for Zurich University of the Arts
Thomas D.Meier and Janine Schiller
- 18 The Call for Colour
- 5,000 people appropriate a new building
Katharina Nill
- 46 The Toni Fractal
- A neutral's perspective on the relocation to the Toni Campus
Kathrin Passig
- 66 Life at Toni
- Snapshots of everyday campus life
Ingo Giezendanner alias GRRRR
- 74 "Relocation has its pros and cons"
- A photographic comparison of workplaces
ZHdK students and Simon Habegger
- 112 500,000 Objects with Various Needs
- Exploring the climate zones of the Design Museum's Open Collections
Katharina Nill

126 “Architecture isn’t omnipotent, it’s an offer”

The relationship between buildings and cities, architecture and appropriation

Janine Schiller in conversation with Toni Campus architects
Mathias Müller and Daniel Niggli (EM2N)

168 Art School Buildings in Switzerland

An architectural history in pictures

Janine Schiller

182 From Dairy to University

Pictures of a transformation

Regula Bearth, Betty Fleck,
Roger Frei, and Hanspeter Dudli

200 Up and Down

How Dialma Jakob Bänziger built the ramp

Janine Schiller

208 The Toni Dairy

The development of the dairy industry in Zurich

Felix Escher

220 Zurich-West

The urbanistic surroundings of the Toni Campus

Janine Schiller,
photographs by David Bienz

246 The Big Loop

Disguised as an electrician, a Swiss author spent a day in the Toni yoghurt factory in 1989

Peter Weber

252	The Toni Campus – Data, facts, plans
280	Image Credits
283	Further Reading
284	Authors