Examples

- 2.1 Reconstruction of first subject from Ludwig van Beethoven, uncompleted piano concerto movement (Hess 15) 89
- 2.2 Reconstruction of second subject. This is a tidied-up transcription of what Beethoven wrote which still retains some unresolved elements (e.g. in bar 2 Beethoven would probably have chosen between the G–G–F[#] in the clarinets and the A–A–F[#] in the horns: each makes sense, but they do not go together well). 90

- 2.3 First sketch of second subject, from Mendelssohn 6, p. 114 (Biblioteka Jagiellońska, Cracow) 90
