

Simulacra

Airea D. Matthews

FOREWORD BY CARL PHILLIPS

Yale UNIVERSITY PRESS

New Haven and London

Contents

Foreword by Carl Phillips ix

MEETING WANT

Rebel Prelude 5

The Mine Owner's Wife 6

Letters to My Would-Be Lover on Geometry and Ponds 7

Temptation of the Composer 9

HERO(i)N 10

On Meeting Want for the First Time 12

The Good Dentist's Wife 13

Meeting Anne Sexton 15

. . . AND REPEATING

Sexton Texts a Dead Addict's Daughter during Polar Vortex 19

Meeting Want (Again) 22

An Ingenue Texts Sexton before the Honey Moon 23

From the Pocket of His Lip 25

Sexton Texts a Backslider after Breaking Lent 26

Rebel Opera 28

Pious 32

Sekhmet's Conceit	33
Select Passages from The Holy Writ of Us	34
Letters to My Would-Be Lover on Dolls and Repeating	36
Blind Calculus (from Barthes' A Lover's Discord)	39
Quiet Desperation Texts Sexton on Independence Day	40
The Lover Problem in Analogue (from Wittgenstein's Lost Black Book)	45
Confessions from Here	46
Dodecaphony	47
Can? (from Wittgenstein's Lost Black Book)	48

WHO.

If My Late Grandmother Were Gertrude Stein	51
Descent of the Composer	54
Sexton Texts Tituba from a Bird Conservatory	56
Narcissus Tweets	59
Sekhmet After Hours	61
Privileged Ghosts of Paris	63
Anne Sexton Checks the Composer's Vitals (from the Archived Transcripts)	67
Psyche on Prozac	69
Sekhmet's Query	72
Rebel Fugue	73
Notes	75
Acknowledgments	79