

JUNG AND SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY

Readings and Appraisal

Edited and Introduced by Gavin Walker

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
1 Introduction: Jung and the sociocultural sciences	1
PART I
Anthropology	11
2 Introduction: Anthropology and Jung	13
Readings	24
Edward Sapir – Culture as “as-if” psychology	24
Ruth Benedict – The individual and the pattern of culture	29
Paul Radin – On Freud, Adler and Jung	41
Paul Radin – Psychological types: The man of action and the thinker	45
Paul Radin – Psychological types: The religious and the non-religious man	51
PART II
Sociology	63
3 Introduction: Sociology and Jung	65
Readings	75
Ira Progoff – The psyche in society and history	75
Susan F. Greenwood – Émile Durkheim and C. G. Jung: Structuring a transpersonal sociology of religion	90

vi Contents

Chito Guala – Jung, Durkheim, Lévi-Strauss: From archetypes to models	105
Vernon W. Gras – Myth and the reconciliation of opposites: Jung and Lévi-Strauss	119
James M. Glass – Marx, Kafka and Jung: The appearance of species-being	134
Beverley D. Zabriskie – The feminine pre- and post-Jungian	149
Gavin Walker – Sociological theory and Jungian psychology	159
Marko Novak – Ideal types of law from the perspective of psychological typology	175
PART III
Appraisal	193
4 Jung and sociological theory	195
Introduction: Jung and the sociocultural sciences	195
Jung and the sociological landscape	196
Jung, sociology and reflexive analysis	209
Readings: The authors	215
Index	217