

Ambrose of Milan's
On the Holy Spirit

Rhetoric, Theology, and Sources

Andrew M. Selby

GORGAS
JPRESS
2020

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
Chapter One. Introduction	1
The Challenge of Fourth-Century Pneumatology	1
The Near Inevitability of Pro-Nicene Arguments for the Spirit's Divinity	7
The Son's and Spirit's Divinity in Ambrose	10
Patristic Pneumatology: Literature Review	13
Jerome, Quellenforschung , and Ambrose's De Spiritu Sancto ...	16
Literature on Ambrose in General.....	19
Methodology: Classical Ciceronian Rhetoric.....	23
The Task of the Present Study.....	25
Chapter Two. The Emperor Gratian's Role in the Genesis of De Spiritu Sancto , 378–381.....	29
A Rhetorical–Judicial Situation.....	29
The “Homoians”: Real or a Rhetorical Invention?	30
The Origin of De Spiritu Sancto , 378–381.....	36
The Aftermath of the Battle of Hadrianople	37
The Letters Exchanged by Ambrose and Gratian and the Request for De Spiritu Sancto	52
De fide 3–5 and the Resolution of the Basilica Sequestration ..	57
The Challenges Facing Ambrose in the Composition of DSS	63
Chapter Three. The Prosecution's Position: Homoian Pneuma- tology.....	69
Summary of Homoian Texts and their Dating.....	71
1. Palladius of Ratiaria's Pneumatology	76

2. The Pneumatology of Auxentius of Durostorum and Ulfila.....	83
3. The Holy Spirit in the “ Adversus Orthodoxos et Macedonianos ”	90
4. The Holy Spirit in the Instructio verae fidei	93
5. The Pneumatology of the “Arian Sermon”	100
6. Collatio cum Maximino	103
7. Pneumatology in the De sollemnitatibus sermones	108
8. The Contra Hereticos	111
Summary of Homoian Pneumatology.....	113
Chapter Three Conclusion	117
Chapter Four. The Defendant: Ambrose’s Rhetorical, Legal, and Philosophical Formation	119
Paulinus’ Testimony regarding Ambrose and the liberales disciplinae	120
Ambrose’s Rhetorical Education	121
The Late Antique Decadence Narrative and Stylized Epideictic Rhetoric in Twentieth-Century Historiography.....	126
Rhetorical Invention in the Church in Late Antiquity.....	133
Ambrose as a Lawyer	135
Ambrose and Philosophy.....	138
Chapter Four Conclusion	145
Chapter Five. Ambrose’s Use and Modification of Pathos toward Emperor Gratian.....	147
Section Two—Chapters Five, Six, and Seven.....	147
Ambrose, Pathos , and Gratian	148
Arrangement and Pathos in the Ciceronian Tradition	149
Prologues and Epilogues in Ambrose’s DSS	157
The Strange Case of DSS ’s Two Prologues and Epilogues.....	157
The Exordium of Book 1: Gideon the Judge, Gratian the Judge, and the Holy Spirit the Judge.....	159
The Exordium of Book 2: The Holy Spirit in the Old Testament and Samson.....	168
The Two Epilogues.....	173
Chapter Five Conclusion	178

Chapter Six. Rhetorical Invention and Refutation of Homoian
 Pneumatology in De Spiritu Sancto.....181
 The Ciceronian Theory of Issues181
 Stasis Theory in Cicero’s *De inventione*184
 The Stasis of DSS.....186
 Cicero’s Rules for the Definitional Issue..... 188
 Definition of the Holy Spirit and Refutation of the Opponent’s Definition.....190
 Ambrose’s “Brief, Clear, and Conventional” Definition of the Holy Spirit in his *Propositio/Partitio*190
 Ambrose’s Refutation of the Opponents’ Definition of the Holy Spirit.....196
 The locus of Definition and Ambrose’s Use of differentiae
 to Refute Homoian Pneumatology199
 Biblical Exegesis as the New Legal Documentation in the Restructuring of the Topics of falsum, turpis, and inutilis..... 204
 Borrowing Refutation Arguments from Didymus and other
 Greek Writers 209
 Chapter Six Conclusion 225

Chapter Seven. Ambrose’s Confirmation Arguments for the Divinity of the Holy Spirit.....227
 Finding the Propria of God to Demonstrate the Spirit’s
 Equality: Common and Inseparable Operations228
 Power Argumentation in Pro-Nicene Theology at Large228
Veni Creator Spiritus: The Holy Spirit as Creator237
 Excursus: Didymus as Ambrose’s Primary Source for “Operations-Power”250
 Arguments from the Equal Dignity of the Father, Son, and
 Holy Spirit..... 252
 The Pro-Nicene Tradition of Arguments from Dignity 252
 Ambrose’s Non-Subordinationist Exegesis of Jn 4:24 (DSS
 3.11.69–12.89).....254
 Excursus on Ambrose’s Borrowing from Basil: Biblical Prepositions and the Inner Life of the Trinity..... 261
 On Jn 4:24: Worshipping the Spirit while Worshipping in the Spirit 274
 Chapter Seven Conclusion..... 275

Chapter Eight. Conclusion.....	277
Appendix: Ambrose's Greek Sources in Parallel Columns with His De Spiritu Sancto	285
Results	414
Bibliography	419
Primary Sources	419
Secondary Sources.....	429
Indices.....	457
Index of Names and Subjects.....	457
Index of Biblical Citations	463