

Alessandro Chechi and Marc-André Renold (eds)

Cultural Heritage Law and Ethics:
Mapping Recent Developments

Table of Contents

Introduction – Alessandro Chechi, Marc-André Renold and Stephen Urice 1

PART I – CULTURAL HERITAGE LAW IN DEVELOPMENT: THE EVOLVING LANDSCAPE OF PROTECTION EFFORTS

1. The Strained, Elusive and Wide-Ranging Relationship between International Cultural Heritage Law and the Law of State Responsibility: From Collective Enforcement to Concurrent Responsibility – Lucas Lixinski and Vassilis Tzevelekos 7

2. “Cultural Genocide” and the International Criminal Court. The Possibilities and Limits of the Protection of Cultural Heritage – Wenke Brückner 45

3. The Usefulness of the “Responsibility To Protect” as Applied to the Protection of Cultural Heritage in Armed Conflict – Sabine von Schorlemer..... 69

4. Collecting Archaeological Objects in Turkey: Legal Framework and Practice – Ece Velioglu Yildizci 91

5. Protection of Cultural Heritage in the Kingdom of Bahrain: Practice and Challenges – Michal M. Wosinski 119

PART II – ART AND CULTURAL HERITAGE: THE ROLE OF ETHICS?

6. Ethical Databases: Case Studies and Remaining Gaps in Cultural Heritage Information Sharing – Susan J. Douglas and Melanie K. Hayes 143

7. “Scores on the Doors”: Establishing a Certificate of Virtue Framework for Future Art Market Regulation – Gareth Fletcher 171

8. Ownership, Ethics, and Non-Adversarial Dispute Settlement Methods: The Hugh Lane Bequest – Anthony Connerty 183

9. Codes of Conduct and the Regulation of the Art Trade in England: Between Hard and Soft Law – Sophie Vigneron 203

10. Cultural Goods Looted by Nazis or Sold under Duress. The Situation in Switzerland: Status and Ways Forward – Andrea F.G. Raschèr 227