

dada Africa

Dialogue with the Other

Edited by

Ralf Burmeister, Michaela Oberhofer,
and Esther Tisa Francini

Contents

- 6 Preface
Thomas Köhler and Albert Lutz
- 8 Introduction. The Dada movement and non-Western art
Ralf Burmeister, Michaela Oberhofer,
Esther Tisa Francini

Dada Performance

- 22 Negro poem, sound poem? Everyone his own Other
Hélène Thiérard
- 29 “Our belief in a direct, magical, organic and creative art.” Marcel Janco’s masks and designs
Michaela Oberhofer
- 36 “Abstract” and “cubist” mask dances.
Becoming involved with the culturally foreign in order to establish a new performance aesthetic
Mona De Weerd
- 42 Tumulte noir. The relationship between Dada and jazz
Jody Blake
- 49 “Real Indians.” Sophie Taeuber-Arp’s early work with regard to foreign cultures. Following the trail Walburga Krupp
- 56 Indians and Katsinam. European avant-garde approaches to the indigenous cultures of North America
Peter Bolz
- 62 Dialogues
Texts from Peter Bolz, Nanina Guyer, Walburga Krupp, Axel Langer, François Mottas, Michaela Oberhofer, and Khanh Trinh
- 80 Catalogue

Dada Gallery

- 88 “Hot spot of international energies.”
The network of Dada artists, dealers, and collectors of African art
Esther Tisa Francini
- 96 Dada reads ethnological sources. From knowledge of foreign art worlds to poetic understanding Christian Kaufmann
- 104 Inspiring chaos. Africa in ethnological museums in the early twentieth century
Nanina Guyer
- 109 Unfamiliar sights, unexpected insights.
On the history and reception of postcards from West Africa
Nanina Guyer
- 114 Han Coray between Dada and Africa.
A life for art
Michaela Oberhofer and Esther Tisa Francini
- 124 The fate of the Han Coray collection and the Ethnographic Museum at the University of Zurich
Alexis Malefakis
- 128 Dialogues
Texts from Ralf Burmeister, Walburga Krupp,
and Esther Tisa Francini
- 140 Catalogue

Dada Revolt

- 150 “Slashes through the thickest skin.”
Dada Berlin between provocation and enlightenment
Ralf Burmeister
- 158 “Drunk, I dance the feather-bright fantastic.” Carl Einstein and the African vitalism of Dadaist art Uwe Fleckner
- 165 Umba! Umba! Sounding the Other, sounding the same
Michael White
- 172 Catalogue

Dada Magic

- 184 Ars una or the synthesis of the disparate.
On Hannah Höch’s collage series
Aus einem ethnographischen Museum
Ralf Burmeister
- 191 Non-Western art in Dada photography and photomontage
Valentine Plisnier
- 198 Dada South? Experimentation, Radicalism and Resistance. The anatomy of an exhibition in South Africa Roger van Wyk and Kathryn Smith
- 206 Dialogues
Texts from Johannes Beltz, Ralf Burmeister,
Michaela Oberhofer, and Esther Tisa Francini
- 222 Catalogue
- 230 Index of authors
- 232 Bibliography
- 240 Lenders/Image credits/Photo credits/
Imprint