

Atlas of the Near East

State Formation and the Arab-Israeli Conflict, 1918–2010

By

Fabrice Balanche

BRILL

LEIDEN • BOSTON

2017

Contents

Introduction	1	Waves of Refugees	52
Menacing Aridity		Demographic Issues and Nation-Building	54
Between the Mediterranean and the Desert	4	A Fragile Economy
“Levantine” and “Syrian” Climates	6	Commerce, Family-Owned Businesses, and the Fear of the State	58
Overexploited Water Resources	8	A Threatened Farming Sector	60
The Deterioration of the Environment	10	An Industry Victimised by Bureaucracy and East Asia	62
Foreign Domination		Uncertain Tourism	64
The Ottoman Empire: An Apparent Modernity	14	The Energy Challenge	66
Communitarianism	16	Hydrocarbons Bypassing the Near East	68
European Imperialisms	18	The Marginalisation of the Levantine Coastline in the Near East	70
The Franco-British Partition	20	A Growing Dependence on the Petro-Monarchies of the Gulf	72
The State of Greater Lebanon	22	The Urban Archipelago of the Near East
Mandatory Palestine	24	An Urban Network Dominated by Four Metropolises	76
Ephemeral States	26	Damascus Devours its Gardens	78
National Constructs		Amman, Capital of an Emirate Without Oil	80
Arab Nationalism and the Struggle against Communitarianism	30	Beirut, A Shattered City	82
Reorganisation of the Transportation Network after Independence	32	Aleppo, A City Reactivated by an Open Economy	84
The Administrative Network in the Service of Centralisation	34	Palestine Partitioned
Syrian Nation-Building and Ba’athism	36	Territories and Populations	88
Lebanon: The Triumph of Laissez-Faire and Communitarianism	38	High Densities and Urbanisation	90
Jordan: An Arabian Monarchy	40	The Demographic Battle	92
Population and Development		An Aided and Controlled Economy	94
A Dense and Urbanised Population	44	Unemployment and Poverty	96
Uncontrolled Population Growth	46	The Service Sector Domination of Employment	98
An Educated Population	48	The Partition of Palestine 1936–49	100
The Increasing Participation of Women in the Economy	50	The Partition of the Occupied Territories	102
		Jewish Colonisation	104
		The Judaisation of Jerusalem	106

CONTENTS

The Geopolitics of the Near East

The Arab-Israeli Conflict: From One Cold War to Another	110	Conclusion	122
Water and the Arab-Israeli Conflict	112
The Golan Heights or the Alsace-Lorraine of Syria	114	Glossary	123
The American Strategy	116	Bibliography	126
Lebanon: A Buffer State	118	Index	128
Turkey's Resurgence	120		