

Work in Transition

Cultural Capital and Highly Skilled Migrants' Passages into the Labour Market

ARND-MICHAEL NOHL, KARIN
SCHITTENHELM, OLIVER SCHMIDTKE,
AND ANJA WEIß

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS
Toronto Buffalo London

Contents

List of Tables vii

List of Figures ix

Acknowledgments xi

Rules of Transcription xiii

- 1 Highly Skilled Migrants: A Puzzling Socioeconomic Reality and a Challenge to Migration Research 3
- 2 The Relational Character of Cultural Capital in Migration 23
- 3 Multidimensional Status Passages: Migration, Labour Market Inclusion, and Private Life Domains 50
- 4 Aspects of the Multidimensional Status Passage: Phases, Migration Motives, and Cultural Capital among Foreign-Trained Migrants in Germany 67
- 5 Migration Control and Migrants' Agency 92
- 6 Symbolic Struggles over Cultural Capital: Racial Discrimination and Symbolic Exclusion 157
- 7 Up- and Downgrading Cultural Credit: A Cross-Country Comparison 204
- 8 Conclusions 242

vi Contents

Appendix 1 257

Appendix 2 268

Appendix 3 271

Notes 273

References 299

Index 341